

Culture Shock Contract

Culture Shock LAN Parties is not responsible for any damage, loss, or theft of any belongings of participants.

All those taking part in Culture Shock do so entirely at their own risk. This includes but is not limited to computers, hardware, accessories, clothing, food and anything else participants may have brought to the LAN Party.

Any damage to the property of Carleton University, DSNETCOM or other participants will be the complete responsibility of the guilty parties as determined by the Culture Shock hosts and given members involved.

Abuse or harassment of any form, be it physical, verbal, or otherwise, will not be tolerated. As well, any method(s) of cheating will not be tolerated.

We have no intention of verifying or monitoring software at Culture Shock. Culture Shock is not responsible for anything you may download, exchange, or borrow from anyone at the event.

No drugs or alcohol will be permitted. If caught by Carleton University Security with possession or abuse of this rule Culture Shock LAN Parties will not be accounted responsible for the actions of the given participant.

There is a limit of one monitor and one power supply per participant to avoid power issues. Any failure to comply with these specifications may result in a fuse being blown. If you are at all unsure of where you should plug in for power, ask a member of the crew for assistance. This is extremely important to help prevent accidental power outages.

By participating in this event, you agree to be photographed or filmed for publication or advertising on the Culture Shock website (www.cultureshocklan.com) or on any news media.

No form of adult media, including but not limited to movies, pictures, and audio tracks will be tolerated.

Culture Shock distributes and sells consumable products that may contain nuts or other allergy related foods. Participants buying consumables do so entirely at their own risk. Please keep in mind there is always a member of Culture Shock on site that is First Aid and CPR(c) trained.

Failure to comply with any of the aforementioned rules and regulations may result in immediate expulsion from the event with no refund.

By signing this contract, you agree to the terms and conditions outlined above. Participants under the age of 18 must have this contract signed by a parent or legal guardian.
